CBTBR hosts Workshop on Luminex Technology

A hands-on training course on using the Luminex technology presented by Alan Tunnicliffe (from Millipore) together with three CBTBR members (Chantal Babb, Kim Stanley and Terri Roberts) was run at the SU node of the CBTBR on 02 October 2007. This workshop was attended by students from around the world and was supported by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. The Luminex technique involves the use of fluorescently labelled microsphere beads to quantify human cytokines and chemokines.
